

Alexis McDowell
alexisnicolem@comcast.net

This was a fun assignment because it got me out and about in my beloved Denver. We are moving from here soon, so to have the opportunity to really look at the architecture and the signage around was a great way to get to know the city better, and preserve some memories for the future.

